

Call Number Matchup Game for grades 1-3

Materials: Pre-made laminated strips with titles/authors and call numbers, mixed up in a bowl, hat, envelope, etc.

How to play: Each student receives a strip of paper with either the title and author of a book on it, or the call number to one of the books. Without speaking, students must find the other student with the match to their strip-- the call number that belongs with the title/author, and return together to their teacher to receive two different strips of paper.

Alternatively: students can put themselves in alphabetical order, students can find the actual place their book would be on the shelf, etc.
